Dear Family:

My heartfelt prayers and thoughts are with you as you absorb the loss of this great man.

Brian and I both started working at Sheridan in 1999. We spent countless days sharing stories and laughs. We chatted to and from classes and were fortunate enough to teach many of the same students. He was always kind, thoughtful and would share his wisdom without hesitation. I will always consider him my good friend.

Yours in kindness,

Keith Barnwell

Dear Family,

Please accept my sincerest condolences. My prayers are with you.

I will always remember Brian for his kindness, his integrity, and humour. He was a great person and everyone who knew him and interacted with him was better because of this.

I will miss you Brian.

Annie Tarzi

I was stunned when I heard the news, and saddened. He and I were colleagues since he joined Sheridan many years ago. He made a significant contribution to student lives at Sheridan and at Ryerson. He will be missed.

To Brian's Family:

I am very sorry for your loss. Brian was such a nice and caring man. I have fond memories of bumping into him in the hallways at Sheridan where we would always stop and chat. We inevitably started laughing about something and I always went on my way with a smile on my face. He will be truly missed.

I am sorry to hear of this sad news. Brian was a great guy and although I have known him for years we got closer right up to the present and he was a lot of fun with a great attitude and left a lasting mark on me and his students.

I had the honour of working with Brian since he first joined Sheridan College in 1999. He was a wonderful Professor and an exceptional mentor for his students. He was a lovely conversationalist, and I thoroughly enjoyed the time we spent working and speaking together.

Sending you sincere condolences. May you find comfort in your memories as you work through this very difficult time.

Peggy Barnwell

I had the pleasure to work with Brian and will always remember his kindness and patience. He often spoke about how proud he was of his children. My heart goes out to your family.

Jennifer Chapman

Brian has been a colleague and almost a "brother" through the past 15 years at Sheridan. He always had the time and the interest in things that were happening not only to our courses but in our lives. I will miss our talks and his generous spirit. May his memories endure. Sincerest condolences to the family.

Stan Kamzol

I had the pleasure of working with Brian since he started at the college and he was always such a gentleman. We talked about our families, sports, politics, current events, history, the weather and whatever else was on our minds and before you knew it, a 10 minute chat had turned into an hour long visit. He was always interested to hear about my son's baseball days and in later years, his career in sports media. At first I thought he was just being polite and I soon came to realize that he was just being Brian. I will miss my visits with him.

My sincerest condolences.
Charlene Kawazoye

Margaret Bawtinheimer

Lisa Brady

My deepest sympathies to Brian's family. I first met Brian as a non-full time faculty member back in 2006. He was always so kind and thoughtful - generously offering support and advice. Over the years, we would often connect over coffee, catching up on our families, sharing a laugh or two. Brian always made time to connect with everyone, asking how you were doing. It was evident he wasn't just asking - he truly cared. He was a champion of many, always encouraging and will be deeply missed. Many were blessed to call him friend. May these stories and thoughts bring you some comfort.

Anne-Liisa Longmore

It is with deepest sympathies, that I write to you and your family of dear Brian. Brian was always so helpful and kind and we in the Pilon School of Business are truly going to miss his caring nature, his smiling face, and his wonderful conversations as a professor, mentor to many, and as a dear friend. Please know that our thoughts are with you all during this difficult time.
