To Ron.

I just wanted to say thank you for everything you do. I am fortunate enough to have a dad but sadly was injured in an accident when he was in his 30's. I remember him before the accident and you remind me so much of him. He gave me my first driving lesson, and tried to convince me that woodworm killed themselves trying to eat into stone! Dad's and people like you are invaluable.

Thank you, dad. You've given me confidence and a sense of security. I know I can handle what life brings, because you showed me with kindness and patience -- even if I didn't quite "get it" the first seven times! I would hear your voice, with that old Japanese proverb, "fall down seven, get up eight." You inspire me to do my best and to be the best woman, wife, mother and human that I can be. Thank you, dad. Happy Father's Day....

Thank you so much for memories I never got to have before. My father and mother had always (in essence) made me their therapists, which in turn made me hear problems that I couldn't handle. When I found the channel, I thought "great, another channel that'll pelt me with requests for subscriptions," but I learned so much that my original parents never taught me because they were too busy venting to me. I've always thought that practical knowledge should be shared. An entire generation has grown up knowing how to Google the manual, but there's no substitute for what you're doing.

Your kindness, empathy and generosity will live on forever simply because you made the time and took the effort to follow through. The world could stand to have more people like you. Many thanks and Happy Father's Day!

Thank you so much for all of the time and effort you put into being the internet's Dad. The videos that you make and the lessons they teach will be passed from you to generations of children for countless years to come. You may think you're just teaching the person who watches one of your videos how to tie a tie, but they'll teach their son, and their son will teach their son, and on and on. And it all started with you. Thanks again for everything, and for being an amazing human being.

Rob, I'm a 34 year old father of 2 (son-5, daughter-2). I lost my father a little over a year ago. Your videos have been a such a blessing for me. Even when I didn't need to hear it, I loved listening to my dad explain how to do things to me. Even if it was the 10th time hearing it. I miss that dearly, and getting the chance to watch you explain something every now and then makes me smile and remember how much I enjoyed that.

Thanks for helping me to hold on to those memories. God bless.

I don't know you, and probably will never get to know you Rob, but I can still give thanks to everybody I please to. So without further ado, I hope you have one hell of a Father's Day!

Jack

Love you, Rob
Happy Father's Day :)
Logan S.

You're such a wonderful human being. Seeing you touch so many lives gives me hope for mankind. Keeping being the awesome dad you are!!
♥ Happy Father's Day!!
Stacy

Hi, I just want to say thanks. You've helped so many of us here who don't have much or anything for a father figure to help guide us through the world, and for you to simply do it from the kindness of your heart means so much more than you can imagine. Happy Father's Day!

From Us to You

I have a very absent father and a lot of things I didn't know, I looked up and thanks to you, I feel like I actually have a dad even if virtually :) thank you again! ❤️

Happy Father's Day from Sai

Thanks for picking up the slack and teaching me things I should have known. Now I can pass them on when the time comes and I'm so grateful for you for that.

You are the type of person Thank you for everything. Love more of. Being able to teach our society needs might've needed to figure out on your own is magnificent. Sorry im not all that good at writing cards, but the point here is that you are an awesome and really loves person!

Sometimes I get too embarrassed to ask for help. As a former gifted kid, I get scared for not knowing basic things feel a lot better when I see your videos. Thank you for making a difference.

Savannah

As a young woman halfway across the world by herself and with spotty internet on my dad's side, thank you for being there for me, and helping me survive adulthood and all that comes with it! :)

RM

Thanks for the videos, dad. They have meant a lot to a lot of people. My own father has not been in my life for many years... and when he was there, he was never a positive influence to me or my siblings. I wish we had had a dad like you, to love us and teach us.
So Happy Father's Day from all of your internet kids. Love you, God bless you!
Lauren

Thanks so much for being such a wonderful influence on the world. It is much better for having you in it. Happy Father's Day!!!
Karen

You're probably the best person I know.
God bless you

Thanks for the validation, the lessons & the love. If only our dads in our lives could be just a fraction of the dad you are to so many... The word "dad" has always brought me pain & sadness. But I have realized that there are GOOD dads out there, real fathers who help their kids, love their kids & want the best for their kids. Thank you for helping me to realize this.

So many thanks for what you're doing. Happy Father's Day from just one of your thousands of kids around the world.

I was raised by a single mother in the 80s. Although she was an amazing woman and did everything she'd could, you would have been an amazing resource for me.

Please, don't ever stop. You have no idea of the size of the impact you are making on the world.

May the universe bless you with everything you need, and some of what you want.

Happy fathers day, sir.

Keep up the wonderful work. Too many young men grow up without a Godly father figure to give them a template for how to act. Your channel is so compelling because you provide that Fred Rogers level of even-temperedness and patient instruction that all too many fathers can't. I'm so glad to have come across your channel. You're planting seeds for an entirely new generation. Richard Rich.

I've watched a few of your streams. I was fortunate to have a pretty good dad, and now I'm a dad myself. But there are things I've learned from your videos. The main take away I get is the inspiration to be a even better dad, and to make sure I teach, inspire, and most of all spend time with my kids. You are doing great work. From this dad to another, happy father's day.

Cory

My dad is still here with me, but I still wish you a happy fathers day for being there for those who didn't have dad's present.

Grey Locke

Thanks for being such a supportive, cool guy!
Your channel helps so many, and warms our hearts. We consider ourselves lucky to have you, internet Dad! ❤️

Dear internet dad, I'm just here to say that while you may not have helped me specifically, you have helped so many people that may have lost their father, keep up the great work.

Toby

Dear Internet Dad,

I lost my father to cancer right before I entered high school - Seeing your compassionate videos to help out internet strangers has really touched my soul. I got emotional with you telling your audience you're proud of and love them all. Thank you for your time, your assistance, your love and spirit. You're helping countless lives every time someone sees your videos, and from the bottom of my heart I thank you. I love you! God bless you and your family. ❤️
